The inspection team visited the housing units numerous times during the inspection and interviewed no less than eighty detainees in groups and fifty detainees in a private setting. During the interviews, all detainees stated that they felt safe at the facility and there were no concerns regarding medical care, personal hygiene, telephones, food, mail, access to the law library, and the availability of ICE staff. All detainees stated that they had received a handbook and knew how to access services at the facility. Fifteen of the interviews in a private setting were conducted with LEP detainees by use of the language line.
