Facility Snapshot/Description

The Atlanta City Detention Center (ACDC) is owned and funded by the City of Atlanta and is governed by the mayor and city council. The facility houses [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] On 6/21/2018 the total facility count was [REDACTED]

[REDACTED]. Detainees in the housing areas are supervised by officers stationed in the housing units. Housing areas provide adequate open space. The atmosphere is relaxed. Detainees were observed participating in outdoor recreation, talking on the telephone, watching television, playing board games, working in the housing unit, working in the kitchen, using the kiosk and reading. There is a closed-circuit television with a dedicated channel programmed with current programs, activities and rules of the facility. There is an electronic information board in each unit programmed with activities, updates and facility information.

The ACDC is a [REDACTED]. [REDACTED]. The [REDACTED] physical plant is a third-generation jail that incorporates the progressive podular/direct supervision style of design and detainee management. ICE detainees are housed and programmed separately from non-ICE detainees. Detainees freely approached the inspectors to converse. Detainees had no complaints regarding access to legal materials, access to telephones or visitation privileges. Detainees voiced no complaints regarding communication with facility or ICE staff. Detainees, without exception, stated that they felt safe at the facility. Confidential interviews with LEP detainees indicated that they had no issues communicating with staff and no issues with conditions of confinement. Concerns were expressed by several detainees regarding the common fare/religious diet meals, indicating repetitive serving of rice and beans and lack of variety on the menus. The Safety SME reviewed menus and common fare documentation and confirmed that a varied menu is provided. The detainee housed in the special management unit (administrative segregation) stated that he is routinely seen by an ICE officer and the review team. He expressed no issues or concerns. One detainee claimed that he had been diagnosed with a liver disorder and that "on two separate occasions he had been given the wrong medication". The detainee's medical record was reviewed by the Medical SME and it was verified that the detainee had a serious chronic illness and is being routinely evaluated by a physician specialist in the community. A review of the detainee's medication administration records verified he is consistently receiving his prescribed medication.

Many detainees complimented the facility staff as being, respectful, knowledgeable and helpful. The inspection team conducted nineteen formal interviews and no less than fifty informal interviews.

City of Atlanta employees provide medical services. Trinity Services provide food services. ICE detainees do not incur medical co-payments. Inspection of the common areas, recreation areas, housing units and special management unit found sanitation conditions to be excellent overall. The medical unit was observed to be average in sanitation levels, due to extraordinary clutter in the area.

Areas of Concern/Significant Observations

There were no areas of concern or significant observations.

Recommended Rating and Justification

The Lead Compliance Inspector recommends that the facility receive a rating of Acceptable. The facility complies with the ICE National Detention Standards (NDS). No (0) standards were found Deficient and two (2) standards were Not Applicable (N/A). All remaining thirty-seven (37) standards were found to be in compliance.
